'If done 8 years ago...': Tamil Nadu CM MK Stalin questions PM Modi's timing on GST cuts

Khejja | 2025-09-23 13:58:43

Chennai: Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin has launched a sharp critique against Prime Minister Narendra Modi, questioning the timing of the recent Goods and Services Tax (GST) reduction and accusing the Central government of perpetuating financial injustice against non-BJP ruled states, particularly Tamil Nadu. The Chief Minister's response came via a post on the social media platform X, directly addressing the Prime Minister's recent announcement framing the tax cut as a "Diwali gift" to the nation. Stalin pointedly asked why this reform, long demanded by opposition parties, was not implemented eight years ago, suggesting that Indian families would have saved "many more crores" had it been done earlier.

Stalin slams PM over GST, demands respect for federalism, state rights

ANAND SINGH CHENNAI

Tamil Nadu Chief Minister and DMK chief MK Stalin on Tuesday took a pot shot at Prime Minister Narendra Modi over the Goods and Services Tax (GST) reforms saying that though he claims that Indians will save Rs 2.5 lakh crore through it and if the government would have accepted the demands of the opposition eight years ago then families would have saved many lakh crores more.

He also urged the government to respect federalism, release the funds, and let the people benefit from what is rightfully theirs and said that India cannot grow by punishing states that defend their rights and stand for their people.

In a statement, Stalin said, "The Prime Minister now says Indians will save Rs 2.5 lakh crore through GST reform and Income Tax relief. But this is exactly what the Opposition has been demanding from the very beginning. If these measures had been taken eight years ago, families across the country would already have saved many lakh crores more."

The Chief Minister also said that moreover, "it is our duty to point out that 50 per cent of this relief has been actually borne by the state governments, a fact which the Union has failed to acknowledge as well as appreciate."

"On the contrary, the Union BJP government is denying funds that rightfully belong to the states. Tamil Nadu is being denied Samagra Shiksha funds only because we refuse to accept Hindi Imposition. When will this injustice end?" Stalin said.

Families would have saved several lakhs more had GST restructured 8 years ago: TN CM

CHENNAI: (Sep 23) Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin on Tuesday took a swipe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi on savings through Goods and Service Tax slab restructuring, and said families would have saved many lakh crores of rupees more had the reforms been initiated eight years ago.

The Prime Minister has said Indians will save Rs 2.5 lakh crore through GST reform and Income Tax relief. "But this is exactly what the Opposition has been demanding from the very beginning. If these measures had been taken eight years ago, families across the country would already have saved many lakh crores more," Stalin said.
